How you can help at home

- Encourage attendance at all revision sessions, interventions and drop-ins — these are planned around individual needs and make a real difference.
- Support your child in using their knowledge organisers and revision guides regularly, little and often.
- Attend the Information Evening, Concerns Evening (invite only) and Parents' Evening where possible — these are valuable opportunities to discuss progress in person.
- Talk to your child about their revision timetable, especially around the two mock series and the Easter holiday sessions.

We know this is a demanding year for students and families alike, and we are committed to supporting your child every step of the way. If you have any questions at any point, please do not hesitate to contact your child's Form Tutor or Progress Leader.

May we also take this opportunity to remind you how important it is for your child to maintain consistently high attendance this year. Every missed lesson is a missed opportunity to close a gap or build on prior learning, and the evidence is clear: even a small number of absences across the year can have a real and lasting impact on GCSE outcomes. This matters more than ever in Year 11, when content is being consolidated and revisited in the run-up to the exams, and when missed intervention or revision sessions are much harder to make up. We would ask that you help us protect your child's attendance wherever possible, including avoiding term-time holidays and non-essential appointments during the school day, so that they arrive at each mock series and, ultimately, at their GCSE exams as well prepared as they can be.

Thank you, as always, for your continued support.
