Statement from the School and Trust

We understand and share the disappointment of all members of the school community that Stowupland has not been able to retain its “good” rating from 2015.

However, we are pleased that the Ofsted report recognises many positives: changes to the curriculum in 2016/17, effective safeguarding, strong teaching in key areas, an established enrichment programme on Wednesday afternoon, the development of a dedicated post-16 centre and, very importantly, courteous and well-mannered students.

Leadership capacity at all levels is strong and we will continue to ensure that the areas for development receive the utmost attention. We have written to the parents and carers of students at the school and will be keeping them informed of progress through bulletins and newsletters.
